

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1883.

A COMPANY is marching out,
And not to life and drum,
But to the stirring music of
The busy reapers, hum.
There is no blood upon their hands,
No heaping piles of slain,
But only rifts of golden wheat,
Upon the harvest plain.

STRAW hats went to the rear to-day.

BUTTER is now selling at 15 and 20 cents a pound.

New potatoes are sold this week at 40 cents a peck.

SEVEN steam threshers are at work in Lewis county this season.

COL. MORROW, the Republican candidate for Governor, will speak at Vanceburg, July 20th, and in this city on the 21st.

In anticipation of the completion of the street railway, some of the citizens of the East end are disposing of their horses and vehicles.

THE Vanceburg Courier is perfectly correct when it says: There's nothing modest about a Maysville sow. She will lie down and have pigs anywhere.

THE large whisky house of Wm. Davis & Co., at Paris, has been closed by the sheriff under an order of the Louisville court. The stock was attached for a debt of $5,000.

THE pupils of the High School, Prof. W. W. Richeson, principal, were examined to-day. The programme of exercises was very interesting and up to the usual high standard.

MR. J. J. MCCARTHY, driver of the Mt. Carmel omnibus, has been detained at home for several days past by the severe illness of his wife. His place has been supplied by Mr. James Masterson. At last accounts Mrs. Carthy was reported to be much better.

THE following marriage licenses have been issued in Brown County, Ohio, since our last report:

Arewin Garrison and Lillian A. Snell.
Henry Rusek and Mary Bante.
Samuel Patterson and Maggie Davis.
John A. Foster and Rosa Ann Modar.
Israel Fry and Emma Mofford.
C. A. White and Isabel Hall.
Martin Snell and Hattie McNutt.

THE Big Sandy and Pomeroy Packet Company has made the following new running arrangements: The Ohio, is announced to leave for Wheeling and Pittsburg every Sunday, while the Bostona, Fleetwood and telegraph will extend their Thursday, Friday and Saturday trips through to Parkersburg in the order named.

THE examining trial of the negro Direly, at Catlettsburg, resulted in his acquittal and discharge. Detective Burnett has given up the case and admits that he made a mistake in causing the arrest of the accused. It is now thought that the application for a rehearing of Craft's case by the Court of Appeals will not be presented.

THE agents appointed to advertise the coming Cincinnati Exposition have sent to the BULLETIN matter that measures eight inches of space with the modest request that we will print it for one month for the compensation of fifty cents a week, or two dollars in all. It occurs to us that the proprietors of the Cincinnati show are exhibiting a decidedly mean disposition in dealing with the press of the neighborhoods from which they expect a considerable part of their patronage, and are running on very narrow gauge principles. The managers are able to pay and ought to pay full value for their advertisements and will do it if they expect to use the columns of the BULLETIN.

THE Washington correspondent of the Enquirer says: It is understood that the consolidation of Internal Revenue districts in Kentucky will be so arranged as to dispense with a near relative of Ex-Secretary Blaine. While the schedule has not yet been definitely announced it is said that the plan proposed for Kentucky includes the abolition of the Maysville office and transfer of its territory to the Covington and Lexington. John Blaine, who has been the Collector at Maysville, is a near relative of the Ex-Secretary of State, and comes from the section of the State where several members of the Blaine family resided, and where James G. taught school in earlier years. The Maysville collectorship pays $2,750 per year, with some extras, and like Conkling's rubber band, "was about all the Ex-Secretary expected to get out of this Administration."

THE consolidation proposed will not disturb John Blaine's equanimity in the least, as his resignation has been before the department for several weeks. When the decapitation begins, unless the Government provides one, there will be no collector to be had.

Prof. Bristow Explains.

The following explanation of the assault on the Rev. Elisha Green, of this city, is printed in the Paris Kentuckian as coming from Prof. Bristow: Meeting Prof. Bristow, of Millersburg Female College, and a pleasant party of young ladies, on Saturday's train, we asked him to record the names in our note book, which he did as follows: Prof. F. L. Bristow, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miss Charlotte Kilpatrick, Cartersville, Ga.; Miss Lottie Peterson, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miss Jennie Saunders, Parkersburg, West Virginia. "All seated, and no Rev. African molested," added he. We then asked him as to the facts of the case in regard to the difficulty with the colored man Green. "As we went into the car," said he, several persons made way to let the young ladies have seats together, and we naturally expected the darkey to do likewise, and after waiting some time, asked him if he didn't intend to take another seat and let the ladies have his. He was positive that he would not do so, and then we waited for the conductor to try to prevail on G. to act the part of true courtesy, but he was obdurate, and the conductor didn't feel authorized to interfere, and we then said we would force him to act the part of a gentleman. Mr. Gould attempted to draw him out of the seat, when Green struck at him, and I tapped the darkey with this light satchel. I knew nothing of his being a preacher or crippled, as he is a very large, robust looking darkey, and I notice gets about very well. I think any man, white or black, that won't readily accommodate ladies, ought to be made to do so. I knocked a darkey down once in Little Rock, Ark., who wouldn't give way to ladies in the street. I did tell a man, (since said to be Rev. Jno. Barbour) who sided with Green, that I could accommodate him."

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

All is quiet on the Potomac. This can be attributed to the heated term.

"Squire Beasley is still on the improve. He has added a new fence to his beautiful sward."

Mrs. Dennis, of St. Louis, Dr. Moore's stately daughter, is visiting her childhood's lovely home.

When gentleman fail to keep their engagements just attribute it to their rush of business.

Mrs. G. H. Wheeler returned on the Bonanza Saturday night with a choice selection of millinery goods.

Mr. A. T. Botts' unique advertisement of last week was quite amusing, evincing the proprietor's enterprise.

Madam rumor says that Aberdeen will be largely represented this summer at Escalopia. All those pretty white dresses and summer silks were not purchased to be exhibited only in Aberdeen? No doubt they will make many a conquest.

Newspaper dead-beats who are eager to read the news, but loth to pay for it. Do they suppose the newspaper men can live on air, and publish his paper without means, any more than a grocerman can furnish groceries without being paid for them?

We find the following in the river news of the Enquirer, of Wednesday: Colonel Gus. Simmons has secured the bar privileges of the new Buckeye State, and with the assistance of John Jones, of the Fleetwood, is busy to-day fitting it up. Col. Simmons' taste has been called into requisition in selecting the cabin outfit of the new boat.

THE Water Company now has 353 customers in addition to establishments that measure the consumption of water by meters. About one and a half million gallons are used each week.

DR. G. T. GOULD has promised to the Paris Kentuckian a statement concerning the assault, at Millersburg, on the Rev. Elisha Green, of this city. It will be looked for with much interest.

An Artistic Japanese Thief.

One morning, having risen earlier than usual, I took my seat by the grated window of my chamber and watched the passers. Presently, a gentle-faced old lady, followed by a dog, came in light, encountered a friend, bowed low and began an animated conversation. While they were thus employed, a kami-kudzu-hiori stealthily approached, and after striking the dog upon the head, picked up the insensible creature with his sticks, threw it into his basket and covered it with the contents, then coolly proceeded to examine some rubbish deposited by the way side. In a few moments the old lady missed her pet and began to call for him; meanwhile the paper collector continued his occupation in an unconcerned manner, as though guiltless of the theft.

"Have you seen my beautiful little dog?" inquired the woman, regarding him suspiciously.

"Dog, dog?" he answered, bowing servilely. "Honorable lady do you take me for a thief?"

"Yes; I believe you have stolen him," she indignantly replied. "I suppose you want to make a few cash by turning his beautiful skin into a drumhead."

"Honorable lady, you are indeed mistaken," murmured the rascal, shifting the basket to his back, crouching to the ground and bowing his head. "Although I am only a miserable kami-kudzu-hiori, I am strictly honest. I have not set eyes on your amiable animal. If you will describe him and tell me where you live I may meet him in my walks, when I will restore him to you."

"My little Chin has a black and white coat, and wears a red and yellow cotton frill around his neck. Although you pretend to be so innocent, I believe you know something about him."

"The gods will bear witness to my innocence," murmured the rascal, with face close to the ground. "It is hard enough to be poor, without being charged with dishonesty."

While he was speaking, the animal recovered its senses, wiggled from beneath the paper scraps, leaped upon the thief's back and barked at his overbold mistress, who taking him in her arms, uttered shrill cries of "P-dice!"

The kami-kudzu-hiori arose hurriedly and was darting off when he ran into the arms of a long-haired, spectacled policeman clad in a tight blue foreign uniform, who had been attracted by the woman's cries.—Edward Green.

For constitutional or scrofulous catarrh and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

The need of merit for promoting personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co, whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.
